

Phillipine Girl Thanks City Folks

"On June 16, I shall be granted a Master's Degree in English by Stanford University, and I shall feel that many Canyon people are by my side at that time," writes Priscilla Lasmarias. Miss Lasmarias' homeland is Dumaguete, Negros Island in the Philippines.

Priscilla, two years ago, received a scholarship from the Associated Students of Stanford University. The scholarship carried no travel money, and Priscilla was 10,000 miles away in an isolated village. She had been receiving some aid from Canyon people, so it was not strange that she appealed to them for help.

Citizens of Canyon got money for her flight to the United States just in time for her to reach Stanford for the opening of the fall session. Two years of intensive study then began, culminating in a Thesis based on the works of Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Priscilla was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker at Christmas time in 1961. She tried to meet and thank everyone who had helped bring her to America. She spoke at Rotary and Lions Club meetings and at the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches while visiting Canyon.

She visited the Harrell Ranch where, as she put it, she "rode on top of a horse." Although she had ridden on water buffalo in her homeland it was her first experience on a horse. She won the hearts of many Canyon people, and when she left she said, "Thank you all; I think I shall always be a little bit Texan."

She will return to Dumaguete as a member of the English Department of Silliman University beginning her work, as she has written, "With joy in my heart, and thanksgiving for what the people of Canyon have helped me do."

University Enrollment Nears 1650

As of Tuesday, summer school enrollment at West Texas State University was 1647 with a few more expected to register.

Prediction was that the enrollment finally would go above the 1650 mark.

Final enrollment for the first summer term last year was 1,398.

Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president, last week said the increase in enrollment during the past two years probably would result in more course offerings for the summer sessions next year.

Dr. Cornette said he expects a sizeable increase in enrollment next fall.

Dewey Hicks Dies By Own Hand In Amarillo

Death by suicide Monday night rang down the curtain on one of the most bizarre murder cases in the annals of Randall County law enforcement.

Dewey Hicks, a well-known area builder, snuffed out his own life on a street in Amarillo even as Amarillo Police Chief Wiley Alexander tried fruitlessly to dissuade him.

Hicks was charged on two counts of murder with malice in Randall County in connection with the New Year morning deaths of Joseph Richard Dameron, 73, and his son Joseph William Dameron, 44, both of South Amarillo.

A 47th District Court jury found Hicks sane here early last month after deliberating only 40 minutes. Hicks was to have stood trial for murder in October.

He was to have been in court Tuesday on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Alexander said Hicks threatened him with a deer rifle and then turned the gun upon himself after bequeathing the rifle to the police chief and a shotgun to Randall County Sheriff Slim Johnston.

Alexander said he followed Hicks' car after calls had been received at the police station.

He overtook Hicks at an Amarillo intersection. The police chief was not armed.

The shooting took place about 11 o'clock p.m.

Funeral services for Hicks were held Wednesday afternoon in Amarillo.

Lil Cowart Essay Winner

Lil Cowart was one of the 50 runners-up in the General Electric Scholarship contests. She was presented with a set of World Book Encyclopedias.

Miss Cowart's essay was selected from among 25,000 entries. "My Most Unforgettable Teacher" was the title of the essays which were limited to 500 words or less.

Her essay was on Mrs. Zula Usery. She was taught by Mrs. Usery while in the third grade at Canyon Elementary School.

Miss Cowart, age 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cowart of Canyon.

The G. E. College Bowl Program on KCNC-TV presented a view of the Cowart home on their program Sunday afternoon.

Boy Hurt In Fall

Kenneth Tolk, Amarillo, fell out of a cottonwood tree Sunday afternoon in Palo Duro Canyon and suffered a broken left arm.

He is confined to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. The upper left arm was broken when Kenneth was climbing a cottonwood tree in the canyons. A tree limb gave way and he was dumped some 12 feet to the ground. He was rushed to the hospital in a LaGrone Ambulance.

The accident occurred at the end loop of the drive which gives access to the canyons. He was on a picnic outing with the Senior High Department of the Tenth Avenue Methodist Church.

Weyman Epps Brown V, 3 years old, suffered severe skull injuries and a concussion Friday of last week when he ran from behind a parked car at his home and was struck in the head by a passing automobile.

The boy was injured at 10:35 a.m. Friday on the narrow roadway that passes through the east end of the University Apartments on 28th Street. Investigating highway patrolman, Bob Rivers said the boy was evidently playing beside a parked car near his house when he was struck.

Board Looks At New Building

Members of the Canyon school board Tuesday night inspected new school plant facilities under construction.

They were accompanied on the inspection tour by Clayton Shiver, architect; E. L. Skinner, representative of the contractor; and Huelyn Laycock, who will take over as school superintendent July 1.

The new school plant facilities are expected to be completed between July 15 and Aug. 1.

The board voted to build a bus driveway along the west side of the elementary buildings. This will keep youngsters off city streets while loading on buses.

The firm of Fuller & Fraser of Amarillo was retained to do the paving.

Resignations of Bert Glascock and Luther Lawless were accepted. Glascock resigned as assistant coach here to accept a job at Memphis under Charlie Chambliss who will be head coach there next fall. Lawless resigned from the Canyon faculty to accept a teaching job in Amarillo.

A Texas Panhandle Dairy Princess will be chosen the last week in June as part of the Texas Panhandle June Dairy Month program.

Regional princesses will be chosen from three Panhandle areas with regional finals to be held the third week in June in Canyon, Borger and Amarillo.

Three finalists will be chosen from each regional contest to represent the region in the Panhandle-wide finals to be held the last week in June in Amarillo.

Each of the three winners from each region will receive a $50 cash prize in addition to their chance at the finals. The winner of the finals in Amarillo will be named the Texas Panhandle Dairy Princess and will receive a $200 scholarship to the college of her choice.

Each entry in the regional contests must have a sponsor with a $10 entry fee to be paid by the sponsor.

The entry deadline for the Canyon Region is June 19. Girls interested in competing for the titles and prizes should call Roland Black at the Canyon Chamber of Commerce office before June 19. His number is OL 5-3201.

Any unmarried girl who is a resident of the Texas Panhandle and between the ages of 16 and 21, is eligible to enter the contest. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will arrange a sponsor for each entry.

Entrants in the regional contests will be judged on poise, appearance and their ability to deliver a short speech on the value of milk in our diet, economy and health. Attire of the contestants will be a street dress of their choosing.

Contestants for the Region 2 contest will meet in the County Home Demonstration Agent's office on the first floor of the Randall County courthouse at 2 p.m., June 20.

Home demonstration agent Sally Fields will give the contestants pointers on their poise, appearance and speeches. She will also give out information as to why milk products are

Possum Is Found By Allen Hicks

Ten little possums was the story being told last week by Allen Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hicks of Umbarger.

Allen found the mother possum and nine little ones recently. Mamma Possum was ambling along and finally took refuge in a five gallon metal can when Allen ran across her. He took them home and fed them in a cage behind the house.

Possums used to be a rare animal in the Panhandle but in recent years have become more common. Their original native home was along the Gulf coast and Rio Grande River country.

Possums, along with armadillos, are considered "living fossils" because of their long ancestry in geologic time.

Important in the family diet, possums are considered "living fossils" because of their long ancestry in geologic time.

Finals for the Canyon Region finals will be held June 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Canyon High School auditorium. Contestants should be at the auditorium by 7 p.m.

Zip-Code Designed To Speed Up Mails

The new, five-digit ZIP-Codes to be used by residents of Canyon were announced this week by Postmaster Marion Higdon with instructions for proper use of the improved system to speed mail deliveries.

The three-digit prefix to be used by all mailers of this community--whether they are post office box holders or whether they get home or office mail delivery is --- 790. To this prefix should be added the two-digit numeral 15 if you received mail delivery service or if you rent a post office box at the main post office. Thus, your delivery area ZIP-Code would be 79015.

If you get your mail at West Texas Station your ZIP-Code is 79016.

Postmaster Higdon stressed that ZIP-Code goes into effect nationally as of July 1 and urged that all residents of Canyon learn the ZIP-Code that serves them now and use it in their return address on all correspondence. In answering mail, he said, ZIP-Codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

The ZIP-Code is literally the last word in mail addressing, and it should follow the state in addresses.

The following is an example of the correct use of ZIP-Code:

Postmaster Marion Higdon
U. S. Post Office
Canyon, Texas 79015

When the national ZIP-Code plan is fully operational, it will provide the United States with the most modern system of mail distribution and dispatch ever devised.

The possibility of mis-sent mail will be cut to a minimum, and the time between deposit and delivery will be sliced, in many cases, by as much as 24 hours.

But in order to assure this vastly improved mail service, it is vital that all of us learn and use the ZIP-Code for our service areas.

Ponderosa Zoning Is Approved

Three important pieces of city legislation were discussed by members of the city commission Monday night in a regular meeting.

Among these was a proposed city fire prevention code, prepared by Fire Captain Joe Rice and City Manager Bill York and modeled after similar codes in other cities.

Also discussed were a trash collection ordinance and a health and sanitation ordinance.

The commission adopted an ordinance zoning Ponderosa Addition. The west 300 feet was zoned commercial and the remainder of the addition was zoned residential.

The commission also studied proposed streets in the new addition.

The city purchased two new typewriters, a standard and an electric, on a trial basis. The standard was purchased from Elliott Office Supply at $172.50. Connell Stationery was low bidder on an electric machine at $365. Purchases were contingent upon satisfaction during a trial period.

Commissioners authorized York to write specifications and make bids on a city base radio station. Bids will be opened July 8.

The new facility is required by the Federal Communications Commission for the fire department. It must be in operation this fall to satisfy FCC regulations stating that police and fire department radio facilities will not be operated on the same frequencies.

The microphone and control of the new station will be at the sheriff's office and will be operated by the sheriff department dispatcher.

York announced the hiring of a second full-time fireman toastmaster Rice. He is Arthur Joseph Plain, 23 years old, from Follett. Plain is a student at West Texas State University, where he is a junior.

Members of the commission voted to offer to negotiate the sale to West Texas State an old sewer rodder which the city will not be using since purchase of a new one.

Action on delinquent city taxes was postponed until completion of the current audit.

York said a group of city officials will go to Oklahoma (See THREE, Page 3)

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The old world is on the brink of ruin and there's no doubt about it. It has been tottering there since recorded time.

If human beings continue to run things, it's likely to hang there for some time to come. On the whole, it's not apt to get much better or much worse except in proportion to the number of human beings residing thereon.

If you get as down hearted as we sometimes do and want a lift of the spirit, talk to some of the young folks out on the West Texas State campus who are determined to do the best they can in the circumstance in which they find themselves.

Lana Hair, a 19-year-old prospective school teacher from Olton, was by the office one day this week to brighten our day with her outlook on the future.

We've known Lana since she was a little tot. Her boy friend is in the forestry school and will go into the forestry service. They are childhood sweethearts and Lana expects to live in remote areas when she and her young man finish their education.

There's a sparkle in this young lady's eyes and a lift in her voice when she talks about her future. While her laddie is doctoring trees, Lana expects to be teaching children in remote areas near places to which her prospective husband's job may take him.

She has the profound faith of the innocent, the diligent determined. Lucky will be the Indian child who draws this able young lady for a teacher. Lana thinks that, stripped of its finery, teaching is teaching and that she will be able to impart knowledge in a crude one-room school house almost as well as she would be able to do in a plush city class room.

This spunky young lady's dad has been a leading businessman in his community since Lana was born in the middle 1940's.

In spite of this, Lana has worked since she was old enough to hold a job and she's still interested in working. As a matter of fact, she dropped by our office this week looking for a part time job while attending summer school.

Yes, if you want a lift, go out to the campus and talk to the Lana Hairs. They're not afraid of the future and you'll be less afraid for having talked to them.

We hope that Colonel Homer Garrison will make it mandatory that officers of the department of public safety handcuff all prisoners in transient.

A young highway patrolman from Gainesville would be alive today if this order had been issued and carried out. Kenneth W. Harrison was shot five times in the back Saturday night by a man he had arrested for disturbing the peace.

Harrison was killed by a convicted murderer who was paroled from Arizona prison after doing only six years of a 40 year sentence.

When a man's offense is serious enough for him to be taken to the station house, he should make the trip in handcuffs. We should insist that our officers not risk their lives needlessly.

The Harrison shooting brings up another sore spot. The man who did the killing, as we have said, was a paroled murderer. It would be well for us to take a long hard look at the rules governing leniency in criminal cases, especially in cases involving violence or passion. All too often killers or rapists are freed to kill and pillage again.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reid of Peculiar, Missouri, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waugh recently. Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Waugh attended college together several years ago at Central Missouri State.

Hilltop Views

If it is true that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread" I am labeling myself today with a very uncomplimentary brand, for I know a lot of "angels" that are afraid to talk about the Negro problem. This "Fools" excuse is that it is a burning issue in this country and, for that matter, over most of the world. Unquestionably it is a matter of grave concern to each and all of us.

My father served in the Confederate army because he lived in a southern state (Alabama)—not because he believed in Negro slavery. He didn't; and none of his family owned slaves. Perhaps some of my own attitude toward the Negro problem of today is derived from my training in childhood. Anyhow, I am here recording some of my thoughts on the problem.

1. I believe that there are no differences in the natural rights of men. Regardless of race, religion, color, cultural status, or any other factor "all men are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights: -- among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." No power on earth can take away man's natural rights. They inhere in the nature of man. Even a slave has these rights, but he is prohibited from enjoying them by people or circumstances who have the power to exploit him. But God made him and we must "let him pass for a man."

Among other things, the Civil War decided that Negroes were not property, but human beings, and should be treated as such; that is, their natural rights should be protected and guaranteed by government against infringement. Unfortunately, in the heat of passion, those who directed government policy immediately following the Civil War put into the Fourteenth Amendment a guarantee of Civil Rights, which is an entirely different thing from natural rights; and here is where present day racial trouble started.

2. I believe, with President Lamar of the Republic of Texas that "enlightened mind, when guided and controlled by virtue, is the guardian genius of democracy. It is the only dictator free men acknowledge; the only security free men desire."

Here is found the standard of competent citizenship in a free society. The liberated slaves of the Old South had no qualifications whatever for participation in such a government as ours. Southern leaders recognized this fact and, in effect, deprived them of this privilege. In the heat of passion provoked by the Civil War and its aftermath, Southerners too often did violence to the Negro's natural rights.

This attitude of southern people fanned the embers of hate among northern extremists, some of whom have kept up a barrage of criticism to this very date, and in part are responsible for the present Negro crisis.

Furthermore, northern extremists (white) have aided and abetted northern Negro extremists in stirring up racial trouble in the South. In addition, the North as a whole has maintained through the years a "superior than thou" attitude toward the southern white man, --an attitude which makes the South quick to resent Northern interference with racial relations south of Mason and Dixon Line.

3. I fear that extremists (white and black) are doing more harm than good to both races in the present racial crisis; and most certainly this hassle at home is damaging our morale as a nation and our prestige abroad. This comes at a time of tremendous crisis in our world relationships. Let us hope that it has no connection with communism or other wild schemes of world conquest.

Mrs. Jones Is Claimed By Death

Education lost a great friend this week with the death Monday morning of Mrs. Jettie Iona Jones, 86 years old, mother of Mitchell Jones who is dean of men at West Texas State University.

MRS. JETTIE IONA JONES

Mrs. Jones was a school teacher in the Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, when she met her husband, Sam H. Jones. Mr. Jones was a homesteader at the time.

Mrs. Jones left her one-room school house to become a housewife but she never gave up her devotion to education. All of her three children are graduates of West Texas State College. She lived to see one of her sons become a top administrator at the Canyon institution.

The family moved to Borden County, Texas, from Oklahoma and then to Canyon, principally to be near an institution of higher learning because of the Jones' children.

Throughout her adult life Mrs. Jones considered books among her best friends and always maintained an adequate library in her home. The little Joneses were well versed in the classics at her knee even before they were old enough to go to school.

"She insisted that her children have an opportunity to go to school," Dean Jones reminisced about his mother this week.

Mrs. Jones was a native of Dallas County. She had lived in Canyon since 1920. She was a member of the Baptist Church and the Kings' Daughters Sunday School Class.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at First Baptist Church with Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor, officiating, assisted by Bob Wear, minister of the Church of Christ.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of LaGrone Funeral Home.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Farmers are busy this week. The accumulation of jobs that could not be done prior to the rains has reached a peak. Wheat harvesting is underway. Most of the acres of grain sorghum and other feed crops will be seeded as soon as fields are dry. Weeds have suddenly become a menace on all land. Local shortages of farm seasonal labor has developed but with a week or so of good weather all these jobs will be done.

How fortunate we are in Randall County not to have had the severe weather damage suffered by some of our neighboring counties. A few areas have received some hail losses but the total losses are minor. Almost all of the rainfall was held on the fields and pastures as it fell. We didn't get too much. In fact within a few days we could use another good shower.

The entire area from Canyon to Texas A&M College down through the heart of Texas is green and growing. When I made the trip last week with some of Randall County's 4-H Club boys, no real dry spots could be found. Grass looks good. Cattle are numerous and are gaining. Some crops are late but the grain sorghum in the Temple-Waco area is fully headed and appears to be good.

Randall County hopes to have another Panhandle Dairy Princess. The June Dairy Month program will center in Canyon on Saturday, June 22, when three district finalists will be selected. This Princess Contest will be staged in the Canyon High School Auditorium at 7:30 P.M. Ice Cream for everyone will be furnished courtesy of area milk processors.

As the battle of the weeds develop, let us be reminded that some agricultural chemicals can cause damage to crops. This is particularly true with the hormone type herbicides such as 2-4-D. Users are urged to observe label warnings. Every year susceptible crops such as cotton, vegetable crops, ornamental plants, soybeans, alfalfa are dosed with weed killer by careless practices. This is an excellent and valuable tool to add to our agricultural efficiency. We need to protect our right to use chemicals by seeing that they are used properly. Farmers should work closely with commercial applicators to insure that such applicators know the location of susceptible crops in the vicinity before weed spraying is done. As with all agricultural chemicals the label on the container is the best guide to use. Read the label carefully and follow the directions at all times.

Canyon Man's Mother Dies
Mrs. C. F. Roberts, 77 years old, Sharon, Tenn., mother of Dr. I. B. Roberts of Canyon, died last week in Tennessee. Dr. Roberts was at his mother's bedside. Mrs. Roberts and Judy joined Dr. Roberts in Tennessee to attend funeral services.

The elder Mrs. Roberts is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Church Holds Parent Night

Parent Night was held at the First Baptist Church last night as the closing program of the Vacation Bible School. Enrollment for the church school was 340 children with an average daily attendance of 300 for the morning sessions which were held from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m.

The annual picnic was held Tuesday morning on the church grounds with nursery through junior departments attending the event.

Teen Time held each morning included several field trips for the students. They made a field trip to Wayland Baptist College in Plainview and also a tour of the Amarillo Baptist Assembly Grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Haynes and sons, Clark and Wayne, returned recently from a vacation to Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

They toured Hot Springs National Park, and the Vicksburg National Military Park, and saw the flowing Mississippi River.

Spec. 4, Clark Haynes, of Fort Hood, Texas, went on the trip with his parents and has visited with them for several days.

Miss Isabel Robinson Loves Art, Fruit Trees

"Friends laughed when I planted my fruit orchard in Canyon. They said you couldn't raise fruit trees in this climate."

Miss Isabel Robinson--artist, lover of fruit trees, professor emeritus of art and once the head of the West Texas State College art department, speaks fondly of the orchard she planted years ago in the then cactus covered and open prairie lot on which she now lives.

"When I bought the land for this house, it was on the open prairie with tall grasses and prickly pear cactus covering it. I cleared off some of the weeds and planted fruit trees. Soon I had to build that picket fence around the lot to slow the winds down."

"During the year, after I had finished teaching, I would run over to the orchard when the trees were barely as tall as myself and count the new green leaves as they came out. The only season I haven't had a fruit crop was one year after a big hail pulled all the fruit off the branches. I like to work in my orchard--picking and pruning my fruit trees."

Finishing a distinguished career with the West Texas Art department in June of 1960, Miss Robinson is not one to sit idly by. In keeping with her art background, she keeps not just one but three art studios at the house which she designed and had built in the spring of 1940.

Miss Robinson uses the entire third floor of the wooden house for her oil painting. She had a small annex built onto the east wing of the downstairs. This she uses for both oil and water color painting and also holds a Thursday afternoon art class for select pupils.

Another favored art hobby of Miss Robinson is textile weaving. She keeps a separate studio for the weaving of textiles, using her own loom which she had installed.

Born in Adair County, Missouri, on Eagle Ranch, Miss Robinson grew up in a ranching environment going to a country school part of the time. The family often moved to Kirksville, the nearest town with a good school so the children could attend classes. The family would spend the 9 school months in town, returning to the ranch for the summer.

Speaking of the country school which she attended, Miss Robinson says, "We sometimes went to the country school about a mile from the ranch."

"Sometimes we had to walk, though we often went in a single buggy pulled by 'Big Jack,' the biggest mule in the county at the time. My father dealt in mules as well as cattle."

"In breaking the mules to harness, they always hitched them up with 'Big Jack.' He would always hold the other mules down. He was also gentle and dependable."

When asked how she got started in art, Miss Robinson said, "I started to draw as soon as I could hold a pencil, probably about the age of two or three years."

"I've just always drawn--as long as I can remember. The first time I had an art lesson was when I was in the fourth grade. Before that, in the country school, we weren't allowed to draw. That was against the rules."

"I used to hide behind my big geography book and draw when I was supposed to be studying."

Miss Robinson finished high school and two years of college at Kirksville State Teachers College in Missouri. Majoring in art, she finished her college training at Missouri University at Columbia. She received her bachelor of fine arts degree with a fine arts major.

Following her graduation from Missouri University, Miss Robinson taught a year at Novelty, Missouri, and then two years at Gilford College, a Quaker school in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Miss Robinson attended Columbia University in New York City, where she received her masters degree in the spring of 1924. In the fall of the same year she taught art at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio.

"I stayed at Ohio for a year. I had an opportunity to come to West Texas as acting head of the art department. Dr. Hill was president then. I came here in the fall of 1925."

"I stayed a year to fill a leave of absence for Miss Lubeth King, then head of the department. When she returned I went to Bloomsburg State Teacher's College in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, as head of the art department there. It snowed all the time."

"In the spring of 1926, Dr. Hill wrote me to return to West Texas in the fall as permanent head of the art department. I retired from the art department in June of 1960 at the end of the regular session."

In addition to her regular duties as head of the West Texas art department, Miss Robinson operated a summer art school in Palo Duro Canyon for about 5 years. "That was from about 1934 to 1939," she said.

"It was a program which ran for about six weeks. We had visiting artists who would come in and stay from one to three weeks at a time."

"Mrs. Amy Jackson, a well-known artist of the area from

John Sims Graduates

John Sims was recently graduated from the San Marcos Military Academy in San Marcos, Texas.

He is the son of Mrs. Geraldine Sims of Canyon and J. J. Sims of Odessa.

He attended the academy for four years and was active in the Student Council, Latin Club and the Honor Society. During his senior year he achieved the rank of Company Commander. He plans to attend Austin College at Sherman this fall.

Miss Betty Lyle is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Oglesby this week. Miss Lyle is a cousin of Mrs. Oglesby and teaches in Denver, Colorado.

Amarillo, came often as did Harold Bugbee from Clarendon. He would spend a week or two at a time with us.

"We did a lot of landscape painting of the canyon, especially the native flowers."

"In the heat of the afternoon, we worked in the lodge where we had a kind of headquarters. We had a dining room there and a cook with Mrs. N. A. Croson as matron. They built us some little houses down on the mesa below the lodge. We also had a large bath house with water piped down the cliff from the lodge above."

Miss Robinson has two little girls she has adopted. Though neither lives with her, they write her regularly. Her girls are Young Boon Lee, a 15 year old Korean girl who lives in Seoul, Korea, and Rosita Yazzi, a 13 year old Navajo girl from Chinle, Arizona.

"I have taken care of both girls since they were 6. They were adopted through the efforts of the Save the Children Federation of Norwalk, Connecticut."

Miss Isabel Robinson, professor emeritus and former head of the West Texas art department tells of her early days teaching for the College.

She especially recalls the five summers she taught art in the Palo Duro Canyon to budding artists from all over the Southwest.

Golfers Back Next Season

The only loss to the West Texas State golf team will be the coach--Huelyn Laycock. The six team members will all return with the addition of Kenneth Barnett who will be eligible after playing on last year's team.

The linkmen coming back include Jimmy Holmes and Monty Sherrod, juniors; and Bob Condren, Jimmy Hodo, Gary Stanfield, and Don Gardner, freshmen.

The squad could only beat Panhandle A&M this season and took it on the nose in seven other matches. They placed seventh in the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Tournament in a field of 15 and seventh in the Abilene meet which sported a field of 14.

"We lost two or three boys at mid-term that knocked the props out from under us," said Laycock. "We would have had a fine team, just what we were looking for."

The new coach situation is still a question as Athletic Director Frank Kimbrough has yet to appoint a new golf coach. Laycock has taken the position of Superintendent of the Canyon Public Schools.

WITH THE FULL MIGHT OF NITROGEN

It's now or never for this year's cotton and grain crops. The nitrogen needed for an abundant, high quality harvest should be applied before the 12th week of growth or before the plant begins to boot or bloom. Anhydrous ammonia supplies this nitrogen in the largest quantity by volume and in the most usable form. We recommend and sell Shamrock Nitromite because we know it to be a fine brand of anhydrous ammonia, 82.2% nitrogen.

Vinegar" by James Laver, Mr. Laver has this to say, "complete consistency in anything is a very doubtful virtue; in judgement of the art it would be absurd if it were not impossible. The structure of the human eye makes it difficult for any of us to see life steadily and see it whole; and the psychologists are beginning to suspect that the human mind has its blind spots also. Therefore no apology is needed when a critic praises one artist for some particular quality, and another for the absence of that quality. One has to learn--it is the hardest lesson in art--that there are virtues that cannot co-exist. One cannot have one's soup both thick and clear."

This writer uses the term oil for his complimentary comments and vinegar for his harsh comments. He seems to wonder at his role as a critic. He says that he should have fled to his own particular mountain, if he had been so fortunate to find one still uninhabited, and having washed his hands clean of contact with the world, and shaken the dust of the market place from his feet, have ceased to criticize and begun to create.

Mr. Laver sums up his book by saying, "There is, however, no putting back of clocks, and there is plenty to do in the world even for the neither inspired prophets nor great artists. Yet we should be grateful to those who have had the courage of their beliefs, and have been willing to sacrifice their ease and comfort to them. It is the function of the artist, the great Immortalists said, to deceive each generation afresh, by reading a meaning into existence which is not really present; but that is begging the question. It is better to say that the artist's function is, if only for a moment, to lift men's eyes from the muck, ---to the crown of spiritual possession above their heads, and, having shown to them all the images and symbols in the House of the Interpreter to send them on their way not discouraged, but fortified with hope."

AROUND THE TOWN (with kids)

A few of the Bible Schools here in Canyon are over and some aren't. The ones that are over have probably had very good attendance and the students I'm sure have learned a lot. I hope that all of you attending and you who have attended agree with me.

Kim Butler had a visit paid by her uncle and aunt from out-of-town.

Riddle

What can speak in every language but never went to school?

Answer to last week's riddle: May (Yam).

Greg Livesay went to Riososa about two weeks ago with his family. They went on a whole lot of hikes and on one hike a dog followed them. They had a whole lot of fun.

will be given by home economists from Southwestern Public Service. Students earning half credits in homemaking during the summer and their guests are welcome to attend the demonstration program.

Club Hears Farm Agent

Jim Murphy, District I Farm Management Agent, gave the program for the Tuesday evening meeting of the Wagon Wheel 4-H Club.

Murphy is also qualified as a professional in the field of landscaping and planting. The program was designed to interest members of the club in landscaping and planting as projects of their club work.

A variety of plants were shown by Murphy, who emphasized choosing the right plant for the desired effect and best results in the garden or yard.

The outside living area is just as important as inside the home said Mr. Murphy at the meeting.

He presented a booklet titled "A Planning Guide for Home Landscaping" which is available to community members who are interested. The booklet has a number of excellent illustrations and is composed of hints for the home gardener and is clearly written. John Brazzil, county agent, and Miss Sally Fields, home demonstration agent, may be contacted for a copy of the booklet which is published by Texas A&M College.

Rover Gist, club president, led the group in the motto and pledge. Minutes were read by Dick Cummings. The guest speaker, Mr. Murphy, was introduced by John Brazzil.

Miss Sally Fields called a meeting of members and leaders interested in sewing. She gave them information and materials needed in the sewing projects of members for the summer.

Adair Sisters Are Singers At Celebration

The Adair Sisters of Song spent the week-end as guest singers for several different occasions including the Diamond Jubilee at Liberal, Kansas.

They sang at an old-fashioned church which was erected in downtown Liberal for the 75th anniversary celebration of the city. Rita Conn accompanied the girls on an old-fashioned pump organ that was used years ago. Kerosene lanterns provided the lighting for the service and the ladies in attendance were wearing long dresses and bonnets of the by-gone era.

The Adair Sisters of Song were guests of two different churches in Liberal Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon they were special guests at a Singing Convention of several hundred people.

The singing trio and their accompanist were guests for a church in Dallart Sunday night where they spent the night prior to returning to early morning classes at West Texas State University.

Linda, Velora, and Ann are the daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Marcus Adair of Canyon, Rev.

Giants Defeat Nine From Umbarger Here Last Week

Bill Holmes' Giants found the Umbarger pitching to their liking and tasted victory to the tune of 25 to 2 last Thursday. Such scores have not been common this season.

Umbarger, which is a new and untried team this year, will doubtless turn the tables on some of its competition this season under the coaching of Bernard Hartman. They have already beat the formidable Canyon Cardinals.

The Umbarger team, taking their cue from Houston, is calling their team the Colts. Their Houston namesakes just whipped the San Francisco Giants three games in a row.

The White Sox, under Eddie Holcomb, also defeated the Umbarger Colts, 17 to 6 last Thursday. Finally, the Cardinals defeated the Umbarger Colts, 18 to 10. The Colts had a bad week.

Thursday of last week, the Pirates defeated the White Sox, 10 to 5. Roy Forehand's Pirates are finding themselves after a slow start this season. The return of Garry Pitt from the injured list, also will help this team.

The Cardinals beat Happy Yankees 15 to 4 on Tuesday of last week and made a repeat performance last Friday when they downed the Pirates by a close score of 3 to 2. Tom Lair was the Winning Cardinal pitcher. He now has one of the best pitching records in the league. Pitt was the losing pitcher.

Another close game saw the Canyon Pirates down the Happy Yanks by the score of 4 to 3. Pitcher Vernon lost the nip and tuck duel to Rossi who was backed up by his pitching partner, Gardner.

The Pirates defeated the Giants 7 to 0 last Saturday but the game has been disputed because of a pitching assignment. The win awaits adjudication from the Texas State League president, Al Kasparek.

Last Monday the Giants, apparently frustrated by an in-out season to date, exploded in the sixth inning for several runs against the Cardinals. Sparked by the do-or-die batting of Neal Hughes in the ninth and by a good double off the bat of Garry McAtee, the popular Giant first baseman, the Giants called home seven runs.

The runs ended the domination of the Giants by the Cardinals who used Gary Winter, then Chris Byerley and finally Max Sunderman in a futile effort to stem the Giant tide of base hits and spirit. It was the kind of win that does the whole league good.

Commencement Is Held For Calvary VBS

Commencement exercises for the Vacation Bible School at Calvary Baptist Church were held last Friday night with the various departments presenting the program.

Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor of the church, introduced each department and their superintendent as they presented their part of the program.

Mrs. A. S. Bednorz was the superintendent of the three year old nursery department and they sang "Jesus Loves Me" and "The Tree Song" on the program.

Music was improvised by the students of the Beginner department as they presented the "Tick Tock Song." Mrs. O. C. Free was the superintendent.

The Primary department sang several songs and gave Bible verses by memory on the program. Mrs. A. T. Reeves was the superintendent of the department.

A skit about the missionaries in the Indian Territory of Oklahoma was presented by the Junior department under the leadership of their superintendent, Mrs. James Reynolds.

The Intermediate department superintendent was Mrs. Bob Brown. These students helped in various ways with the Bible school.

A reception for parents and friends was held following the program in Fellowship Hall of the church. Guests were served ice cream and cookies. Mrs. Curtis Butler was in charge of the reception.

Babe Ruth History Is Interesting

The history of the Canyon Babe Ruth League is one of interest and dedication.

The League was first established in 1957 with Dr. C. C. Callarman as its president.

At first the league had only four teams, all from Canyon. It now operates with six teams including the Happy Yankees and the team from Umbarger.

Other presidents of the Canyon Babe Ruth League in order are Tom Langston, Col. Edward Lindsey, and presently Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., who has been president since 1959.

Included among those who helped establish the league are Frank Begert, Chet Reynolds, Jim Boyd, George Ritter, Borden Price, Bob Bellah, Bill Sternberg, Don Olson, Joe Abbott and Earl Crump. Many others also contributed their time and effort, according to league officials.

Present officers for the league are Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., as president; Jack Downing as vice-president and player agent; Tom Lair as treasurer and Dr. George de Schweinitz as secretary.

Little League Fields Two-Thirds Big Fields

In addition to their being only two-thirds adult size, the spunky Little Leaguers play on fields that are two-thirds big league size.

Designed to fit their height and stamina, the Little League fields have dimensions just two-thirds the size of regulation size fields for the big leagues.

The run between the bases is 60 feet instead of 90 and the pitcher's mound is 46 feet from the home plate, instead of the big league 60 feet 6 inches. Pee Wee fields are even smaller with the base runs at 50 feet and the pitcher-home base distance at 40 feet.

Canyon now has four fields for the Babe Ruth, Little and Pee Wee Leagues to play on. All are located in the east end of Canyon near Canyon city park.

Babe Ruth League will use the south field while the Little Leagues will use the northfield. The newly formed Pee Wee League will use the recently constructed fields to the west of the regular playing fields.

The Babe Ruth and Little League fields have recently been regressed and repaired for this season's play.

Bleachers for the Babe Ruth field are on the west side of the playing area. They will seat up to 100 persons. Small stands are available on the north side of the Little League field, seating about 50 people.

Officials expect the two fields will need additional seating. Many spectators watch the games from their cars which they park around the edges of the fields.

The Babe Ruth and Little League fields both have player dugouts where the coaches and players can watch the progress of the games in the shade and protected from occasional showers. The dugouts also have a wire fronting to protect the players from stray balls.

Lighting for the two fields was purchased by the Leagues from a semi-pro league that closed shop in Turkey. Canyon fathers and businessmen went to Turkey with trucks, tools and winches. They pulled the 60foot poles from the ground after removing the lighting equipment. The poles were placed on long trucks and the whole arrangement trucked back to Canyon where the Canyon volunteers erected the equipment. The lights were turned on for the first time in 1956.

Babe Ruth teams play seven innings with no innings beginning after 7:20 or 10 p.m. Games begin at 5:30 and 8 p.m.

Little League games begin at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. with no innings starting after 7 or 9:15 p.m.

Max Bosley is the man responsible for the keeping of the grounds at the Canyon Little League ball parks. Much of the improved grasses on the Little League ball diamonds are through the efforts of Bosley and his assistants.

Three Summer Baseball Groups Organized Here

Babe Ruth League, Little League and Pee Wee League are the three summer junior baseball groups organized for Canyon this season.

Divided into broad age groups, the league provides a medium through which the youth of Canyon can participate in athletic competitions while learning the values of athletic skills and competitive sportsmanship.

While competition and athletic skills are important parts of the junior baseball program, the use of sportsmanlike conduct by the players (and their parents) has a far reaching effect on the young sportsmen.

Officials feel that competition and athletic ability can have valuable effects on the lives of the youth but that a knowledge of good sportsmanship will provide the boys with an invaluable aid towards success in life. For this reason they strive to emphasize good sportsmanship over competition and athletic skills.

Babe Ruth League is set up for boys ranging in ages 12 through 15. Little League fills the gap for the boys between the ages 10 through 12. The Pee Wee League is for ages 8 and 9 years.

A youngster can start playing baseball with the Pee Wee League at the age of 8 years and continue right on up through Little League and Babe Ruth League to the age of 15. Other teams and leagues take over after the 15th year.

Canyon Babe Ruth League is set up with four teams plus the two teams from Happy and Umbarger.

Little League is set up with two divisions, the majors and the minors. The more experienced boys are usually sent to the majors and the green hands to the minors.

The smallest baseball players in age if not in size, are the two divisions of the Pee Wee League, the 8 year olds and the 9 year olds. The age of 8 years seems to be the youngest age that boys can be put on a team with any success.

Field and equipment sizes and rules are appropriately scaled down for all three leagues, especially the Pee Wee boys.

The Little League teams play on fields that are generally two thirds the size of a big league field. The Pee Wee fields are somewhat smaller than the two larger league fields.

The number of innings played, time limits, safety equipment and other rules and regulations are set up to fit the strength and size of the young boys.

Canyon Will Be Host For Tournament

Canyon Babe Ruth League will host the Babe Ruth District Tournament in mid-July. Competing teams will come from Plainview, Fritch, Borger and elsewhere. Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., is in charge of the tournament.

One of the Canyon Babe Ruth teams will compete in the tournament. The Babe Ruth League draws on the Little League graduates for its players. The Babe Ruth League provides the place for young baseballers to play after they have progressed through the ranks of the 8 and 9 year old Pee Wee players to the 10, 11 and 12 year old Little Leaguers. The maximum age for the Babe Ruth boys is 15 years.

Babe Ruth League is governed by strict laws and rules set up by the National Babe Ruth League organization in Trenton, New Jersey. The organization is divided into states and then districts with overseas leagues for the benefit of the American armed forces.

Each year a world championship team is found through the competitions. This year the Babe Ruth "World Series" will be held in Farmington, New Mexico on August 18 through 24.

Chamber Praises Program

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce congratulates the Little League and the Babe Ruth League organizations and the many persons involved in their promotion in Canyon.

Huelyn Laycock, president of the chamber of commerce, said, "We feel that Canyon is very fortunate to have such a well organized program of junior baseball for the youngsters of Canyon."

"Little League and Babe Ruth League are contributing factors to the community while building a storehouse of future baseball talent. The support of the leagues by the clergy, school and business people, contributes to the unity and strength of the community, giving them a common goal to work for. The leagues bring the community closer together by having the members of the community work together.

"The Little League and Babe Ruth League programs are also responsible for teaching and guiding Canyon's youth towards worthwhile activities.

"We encourage every Canyon citizen and parent to attend the Little League and Babe Ruth League games and wherever possible to participate in the voluntary programs that keep the leagues alive."

Canyon Little League Has Plenty Of Players

"Canyon Little League is off to a good start with plenty of boys taking part in the play," says player agent Squirrely Daniels.

"We have plenty of boys showing up for the games and practice and we look forward to a good season."

Canyon Little League is an annual project of a group of fathers and Canyon businessmen. Through their efforts and sponsorship, Canyon boys, ages 8 through 12 years, are offered the advantages of a nine week program of organized baseball.

Canyon Little League play began June 3. The rules and schedules set play on a four day week with no games on Wednesday, Friday or Sunday. This schedule allows teams to play two games a week, excepting every third week. That week they will play only one game each.

Boys from Canyon, Umbarger, Happy and Amarillo have registered for play with the leagues this summer. These have been divided into nine teams.

Babe Ruth teams are the Giants, Pirates, White Sox, Cardinals, Yankees and Umbarger. The Happy Yankees also play in the Babe Ruth League.

Little League teams are in two divisions, the majors and the minors. Teams in the majors are the Redlegs, Yankees(Canyon), Braves and the Dodgers.

Teams in the minors are the Tigers, Indians, Phillies, Colts, and the Cubs.

The Pee Wee League 9 year old teams are the Twins, Angels and the Mets. Pee Wee 8 year old teams are the Orioles, Red Sox and the Senators.

Daniels has served as player agent for the Canyon Little League for the past two years. The job is an elective one and a busy one too.

As player agent, Daniels is the man who conducts the annual Auction of players for the various teams. He also assists the president of the Little League in checking eligibility of players. He coordinates the players transfer to or from the minor leagues. In addition, he serves as a member of the Little League board of directors.

Mike and Shannon Petty of Norman, Oklahoma, are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow, this week.

Mrs. Charlotte Brundige and daughter, Deborah, visited in Mangum, Oklahoma, recently with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vaughan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Brundige.

Mrs. Robert Evans and children returned to Canyon with Mrs. Brundige and will spend several days visiting here.

Little League Players Provided With Uniforms

Canyon Little Leaguers are provided with uniforms according to which division they play in.

Divided into the Majors, Minors and the Pee Wees, the players are given full uniforms if they play for the majors and a shirt and cap if they play for the minors or Pee Wees.

The uniforms, with the exception of the caps, remain the property of the Little League and must be returned at the end of the playing season. The boys are allowed to keep their caps as mementoes of the team.

Little League pays for the uniforms and equipment through the profits at the concessions stand which the league operates. Contributions from individuals and local civic groups and clubs, help pay the bills.

The Canyon Jaycees are responsible for much of the fund raising for the Little League activities. The Jaycees promote several money-making projects a year to find money to operate the teams. The cost of baseball caps and T-shirts comes to something like $450 per season, according to League officials.

The league also provides each team's dugout with at least five protective helmets. Rules say the battery and all base runners must wear the helmets while playing ball.

Baseball shoes with metal cleats have been prohibited, although shoes with rubber cleats have been approved.

All catchers are required to wear metal, fiber or plastic cup-supports. It is suggested that all players wear the supports while playing ball.

Wearing of the uniform is limited to game play. The rules require that league shoulder patches be worn on the left shoulder for proper identification.

It is also required that uniforms be cleaned only by dry cleaning. Washing will ruin the uniforms, according to league regulations. Coaches will instruct the boys as to when they should have the uniforms cleaned.

Joe Gidden is vice-president of the Canyon Little League. As the VP he has the job of helping coordinate Little League activities during the season. He is often seen helping with the work load when there is a Little League job to be done.

Eligibility For Little League Play Outlined

The question of eligibility is often raised in Little League activities. How do officials determine a boy's eligibility?

Simply stated, Little League rules are that any boy who has not reached the age of 13 years by August 1, is eligible to play Little League ball. September 1, with the maximum age of 15 years, applies to Babe Ruth ball.

The deadline on August 1 is inclusive, meaning that a boy who is 13 on August 1, is still eligible to play Little League ball. However, if the boy attained the age of 13 years on July 31 or earlier, he is not eligible.

Minimum ages for eligibility in the Little League is 8 years. Boys who have reached their 8th birthday on August 1 or later are eligible to play in the 8 year old division of the Pee Wee League.

If the boy has reached his 9th birthday on or after August 1, he is then eligible to play in the 9 year old division. Reaching the age of 10 years on or after August 1, places a boy's eligibility in the minor division of the regular Little League play.

It is also required that a candidate for play submit a birth certificate or hospital record as proof of age to the Little League president at least 48 hours before the player auction is put into action.

The president of the league is responsible for and must certify the eligibility of each player prior to the auction selection.

Any player who fails to attend at least 50 percent of the Spring training sessions shall become ineligible for play unless excused by the manager.

Girls are not eligible for Little League.

Pee Wee Leagues Have Two New Playing Fields

The recently organized Pee Wee Leagues, as a part of the Little League, now have new playing fields on the west side of the regular Little League fields near city park. The Pee Wee League is for 8 and 9 year olds. Little League president Truett Hull, said the use of the fields is through the courtesy of Aubrey Crossland, who let the Little League build two baseball diamonds on a part of his pasture for the summer season.

The Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity, of West Texas University campus, volunteered to build the baseball fields for the Little League as a community service. The fraternity pitched in with materials supplied by the Little League and built two baseball diamonds with backstops, player benches, fences and improved grasses.

The Little League maintains the two new fields during the summer baseball season. The fields are returned to winter pasture after the season is over.

The east field is used by the 9 year olds of the Pee Wee League and the west field by the 8 year olds.

Built especially for the small Pee Wee League players, the two fields are smaller than the regulation Little League field. The plates are 50 feet apart instead of the regulation 60 feet and the distance from the pitcher's mound to home plate is 40 feet instead of the regular 46 feet for Little League play.

Rules for play are also special for the Pee Wee League. Five runs by a Pee Wee League team in their half of the inning, closes that half. This is done to preclude long, drawn out innings, assuring each player of a chance at bat and to play their field positions.

Harrassing Umpires Not Good In Small Fry Play

"He's out!" yells the umpire. The stands roar. "You're blind as a bat! He was safe by a mile!"

Such might be common in a big league stadium where the fans are rooting for their favorite baseball team--professional, that is.

Little League Umpires, however, spend their time and efforts on a strictly voluntary basis, calling the games for the little ballplayers.

The Little League umpires are not men with big league experience nor are they paid for the work. While they are not fully familiar with the Little League rules, they are trying to do their level best to be fair and call a fair game.

Where a controversy over a called decision develops, all the Little League managers have an agreement with the volunteer umpires whereby they all gather in a caucus in the center of the field, away from the distractions of the stands, and come to an agreement over the controversy.

After the agreement, the game is resumed without further controversy or argument.

Truett Hull, as president of the Little League for this season, says he has trouble finding anyone willing to take over the responsibility for calling the games. Working on a voluntary basis and using their own personal time, the umpires aren't too sympathetic with the nearly professional rharbarbing that sometimes comes from the parents of the Little Leaguers in the stands at game time.

Hull says the parents often tend to get emotionally involved with the games and tend to over-emphasize the competition of the games instead of the sportsmanship and game skills.

Hull cautions Little League parents to refrain from getting too involved emotionally in the games and especially in the decisions of the umpires during games. He says many other Little League communities have had to resort to paying their umpires and coaches because volunteers were not willing to put up with the guff and bad feeling from emotional parents.

"Six Flags Over Texas," the amusement park located between Dallas and Fort Worth, was visited over the week end by Mr. and Mrs. Wayland C. Angel and children, Mary, Clifford and Kenny.

The Angel family visited with other relatives in the area and made a trip to Grant, Oklahoma to visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor. The Taylors formerly lived in Canyon and he was Mayor at one time.

A birthday dinner for Mrs. Frank O'Donald and Mrs. John Ashley was held Sunday in the O'Donald home.

Dick Ziegler Guides Twins

Dick Ziegler, an experienced Little League coach, is manager for the Pee Wee League Twins this season.

He was the manager last season for the Red Sox team in the 8 year old division of the Pee Wee League.

Ziegler is interested in the Little League activities because he thinks it a good thing and because his son, Ricky is a player on the Twins team of the 9 year old division of the Pee Wee League.

Ziegler says he originally got involved with the Little League program because his boy was a player, but found that he enjoyed the work with the boys and became an active participant in the Little League activities.

"I think it's terrific! It is a great thing for the boys. They get a keen interest in baseball and they learn to like it," he said.

We are, of course, proud of our role in our town's material growth. But as we grow materially, let us never forget the need for spiritual growth of our youngsters. Concession Stand Is Important To Program

One of the supporting links of the Babe Ruth-Little League organization in Canyon is the volunteer operated concessions stand at the ball park.

The stand, which sells popcorn, cookies, cold drinks, sandwiches, candies and snow cones, is jointly owned and operated by the Babe Ruth and Little Leagues. Profits from the stand go to the two leagues to help defray expenses of keeping the leagues in operation.

According to a pre-agreed schedule, the mothers of the Babe Ruth and Little League players bring sandwiches and cookies to the concession stand on game days. Other mothers and fathers of players take over the responsibility of actually operating the stand on game days and nights, making popcorn and snow cones and dispensing other things to eat.

Ray Raillard is the man in charge of the supplies for the stand and restrooms, which are nearby. Max Bosley is the man in charge of the maintenance of the stand and the nearby restrooms, getting them ready for the season at the start of the summer.

According to the schedule set up between the parents of the two leagues, the Babe Ruth League parents usually operate the concessions stand while the parents of the Little and Pee Wee League provide sandwiches and cookies for sale in the stand.

The concessions stand schedule is as follows:

New Idea Tried For Umps

A new idea is being tried in the umpiring of the Pee Wee games for the Canyon Little League.

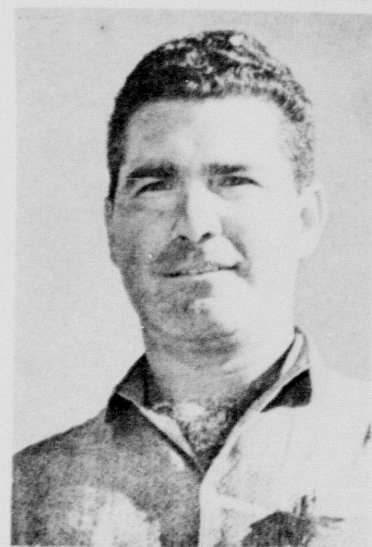

Officials of the Little League have instituted the use of Babe Ruth League players as umpires to call the games of the 8 and 9 year olds in the Pee Wee Leagues.

The idea behind the use of the Babe Ruth League players as umpires is a three-fold one. First it will solve the always present headache of finding umpires to call the Pee Wee games.

The real value of the player use, however, is a double barreled one. The theory is that the small boys will respect the skill of the older boys. Associating with the older players should encourage the Pee Wee players to continue with their baseball to eventually become a Babe Ruth player some day.

The other side of the coin is the chance it will give the Babe Ruth players to be an adult in community affairs. It will also give the player a chance to see what it is like to be an umpire.

This should give him a broader understanding of the umpire's responsibilities when he plays in his own league, according to league officials.

Morris Henderson is the new coach for the Canyon Red Sox this season. Henderson has a son, Craig Henderson, in the Red Sox, providing one of the reasons for his interest in the league. "I think the Little League is a wonderful program. It gives the boys something to do and builds character. It can't be beat," Henderson said. Robert Burton and Jesse Fisk are the assistant coaches for the Red Sox.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Thurman of Silverton visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wheelock recently.

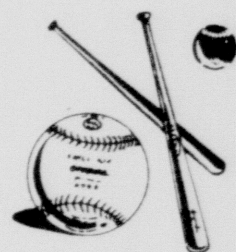

Visiting with Mrs. Nina White Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stephens and son, Bob, of Amarillo.

Jim Upfold, as manager with the Canyon Cubs, has produced a spirited team this season with his team. The Cubs are in the Minors of the Little League.

Babe Ruth Competition For One Age Group Only

Babe Ruth League conducts competition for only one age group. All players must be at least 13 years of age and may not have reached their 16th birthday by September 1 of the year in which they wish to play.

Regulation games are seven innings with leagues composed of four to six teams. Chartered leagues may contain eight, ten or twelve teams, provided they are divided into separate divisions of no more than six teams per division.

Although Babe Ruth teams play on standard ball diamonds with standard equipment, it is recommended that out-field distance be shortened to compensate for the youth of the players.

Each Babe Ruth team is required to carry an approved team accident insurance policy, protecting its players against accidents in practice, regular or tournament games, and travel to and from games.

Post-season tournament competitions are conducted between tournament teams selected for the League's tournament team must have played at least one half of the games played by his team, except pitchers who must have competed in at least one quarter of the games his team played.

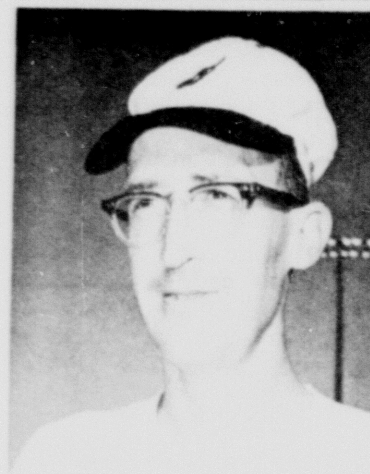

Chartered leagues engaged in local competition throughout the season, select and enter tournament teams in district, state, regional and "World Series" play, according to the rules of the Babe Ruth League, Inc.

The "World Series" championship tournament is composed of play among eight regional champions and a host team from the city in which the competitions are held.

The expense of the "World Series" is taken by the Babe Ruth League, Inc., which furnishes travel expenses, housing, meals, entertainment and other related items.

In tournament play, awards are made to the state, regional and "World Series" championship teams. Individual awards are made to the players on the "World Series" championship and runner-up teams.

Bill Holmes, coach for the Canyon Giants says, "I like the boys and I like baseball." This is Holmes first season coaching for the Giants. "I think this is wonderful preparation for the boys towards the day when they get into high school. When these boys get through with Babe Ruth League and get into high school baseball, they should really be good," Holmes said.

Dan Minier, as coach for the Canyon Indians, is going through his first year at Canyon Little League activities. He has had a years experience with Little League coaching in Amarillo. Minier has two sons, Ronny and Corky, who are players for the Canyon Indians. Minier says he really enjoys working with the kids.

Area Pilot Sets Record

A Marine lieutenant colonel and former resident of this area set a new record for carrier landings aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway.

Lt. Col. James B. Graves, Commanding Officer of Marine Composite Reconnaissance Squadron Three made the 108,000th landing aboard the 978-foot flattop on May 25 in his "Crusader" jet. The ship was operating off the California coast when the landing was made.

A former student of West Texas State College, Colonel Graves began his career with the Marine Corps when he entered flight training at Corpus Christi in August, 1942. He flew 90 combat missions in the South Pacific during World War II and 109 missions during the Korean conflict.

Colonel Graves is the son of Mrs. Jasie Moore of 104 Melrose, Modesto, California, and the husband of the former Miss Ernestine Portillo of Walters, Oklahoma.

Mrs. George Vinyard and sons, Randy and Scott, of Midland visited with Mrs. Jack Walker Tuesday evening.

Pirates Not Pictured In This Edition

This edition carries pictures of all Randall County Little League baseball teams except the Pirates.

Due to conditions beyond our control and that of the team, the Pirates are not pictured here but will be pictured in a later edition.

Several volunteer workers likewise were not pictured in this edition. For this shortcoming, our sincerest apology.

The short time in which the Canyon News staff had to gather the material for this important edition in order for it to be most effective made it almost impossible to get pictures of all the loyal Little League workers.

Ray Raillard is the man in charge of the Little League's portion of the concessions stand at the ball park.

Jimmy Parker, Danny Johnson, and Ted Reese are on a vacation this week following final examinations at West Texas State University where they were freshmen.
